Trade of Coaches Continues at CHS

Canyon High School lost one coach this week to Lamesa High School, but Superintendent Joe Gibson announced that another coach had been hired as a replacement.

Leaving Canyon after two years as assistant coach is James Kauffman, who will join Bill Davis, former head coach at Canyon. Davis accepted the job as head coach at Lamesa earlier this year.

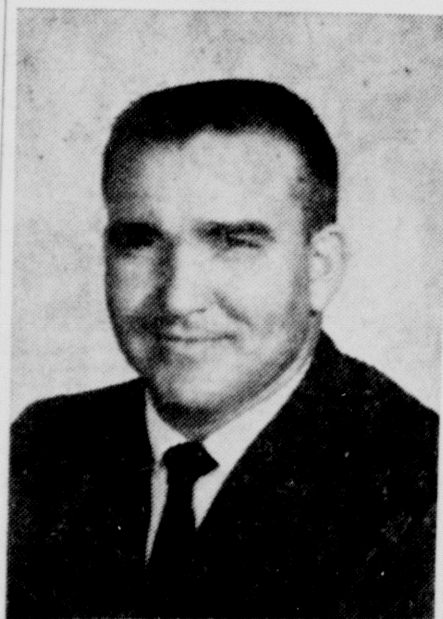

Replacing Kauffman will be Charley L. Chambless, 28, who is now a B team football coach at Borger High School.

Worked With Webb
Chambless, a West Texas State College graduate, had worked with E. J. "Jeep" Webb, recently-hired head coach for Canyon, at Borger. Webb had been assistant football coach at Borger.

It is not known at the present time when Chambless will take over the Canyon job, Coach Webb said. The new Eagle coach must first obtain a release from Borger. A 1950 graduate of Borger High School, Chambless received a BS degree in physical education from West Texas State College in 1954 and a master of education degree from WT in 1959.

Coached, Taught at Borger
He has taught at Borger since obtaining his bachelor's degree. He taught general science, physical education, and history at Borger Junior High School from August, 1954, to May, 1957.

In 1957 he was moved up to Borger High School, where he began coaching the B team and teaching world history.

It has been known for some time that Kauffman would be leaving the coaching ranks here and joining Coach Davis at Lamesa. Kauffman accepted an assistant coaching job at the same time Davis was hired as head coach by the Lamesa school board.

Another of Coach Davis' assistants, Bill West, has resigned at Canyon, but has not accepted another job yet.

At present, Coach West is coaching track and teaching.

WT Departmental Changes Told After Smith Resigns

With the resignation of Dr. Emmitt D. Smith as director of teacher education and coordinator of public services at West Texas State College, a number of changes have been announced by President James P. Cornette for the 1960-61 session.

Huelyn Laycock, White Deer superintendent of schools, has been appointed coordinator of public services, and Dr. J. B. Roberts, head of the education department since 1948, will become director of teacher education. He will also retain his post as chairman of the college's professional and vocational division.

Named head of the education department was Dr. Ruth Lowes, professor of education and a member of the faculty for more than 30 years.

Dr. Smith has resigned to accept a post as coordinator of laboratory experiences and teacher education at the University of Texas.

A native of Nebraska, Miss Lowes earned her B.A. degree at West Texas State in 1925, though she had joined the college's demonstration school faculty in 1922. She was a teacher in the WT demonstration school until 1944, when she was named professor of education.

Dr. Lowes earned her M.A. degree in 1930 at Teachers College of Columbia University, and she received her Ph.D. in 1948 from the State University of Iowa.

Organizer and leader of the annual Reading Conference, held each summer at West Texas State and which attracts hundreds of teachers from over West Texas, Miss Lowes has written numerous articles for such professional magazines as Child Guidance in Christian Living, Childhood Education, Texas Outlook, and Texas Parent-Teacher. She is the author recently of a number of stories for children.

Dr. Lowes has been a consultant during recent years in elementary education for schools throughout the Panhandle, and has been active in American Cancer Society and PTA work in the region.

Dr. Lowes has served as president of District IX, Texas State Teachers Association, president of the Canyon Branch, American Association of University Women, and for many years has been district membership chairman for the National Education Association.

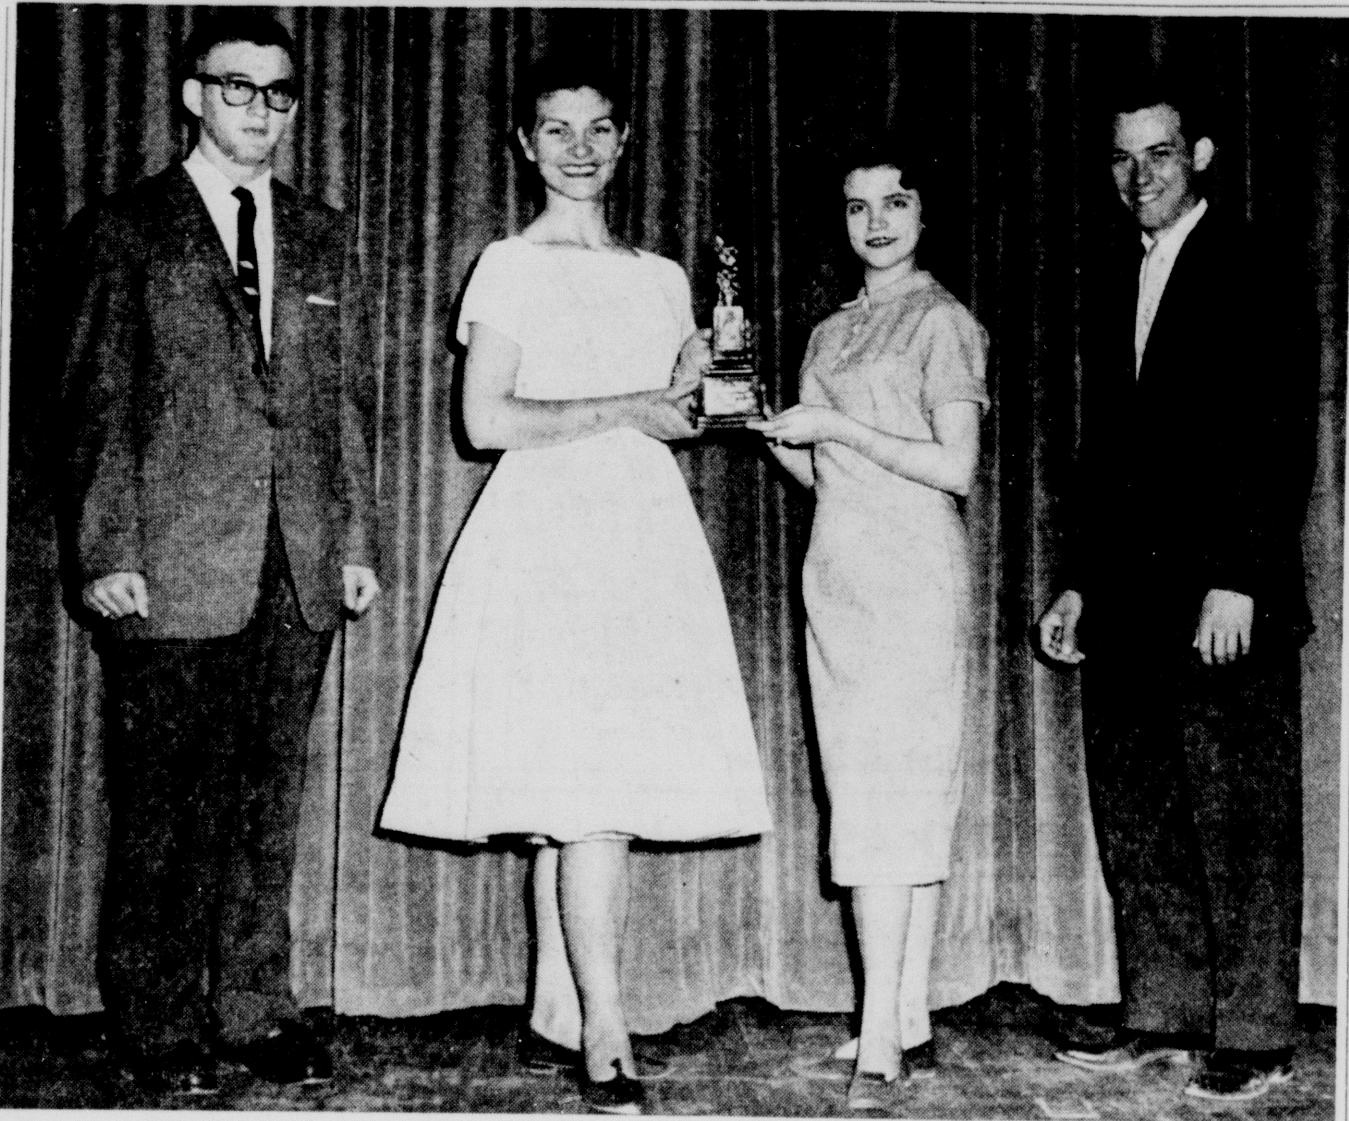

She is a member of the Association for Childhood Education, Texas Association of College Teachers, American Association of University Professors, Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association, National Council of Teachers of English, Association of Student Teaching, and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Laycock, superintendent in White Deer since 1951, will coordinate the college placement service, extension and correspondence work, and handle student employment. His office will also assist with student personnel services and student loan programs. Dr. Kenneth Waugh is now director of student personnel services.

Holding both his B.S. and M.A. degrees from WT, Laycock was Gray County Superintendent for seven years before going to White Deer. He was a principal and teacher at Hopkins for nine years.

Mr. and Mrs. Laycock have a son, Brantley, who is a junior at Texas A&M College, and a daughter, Mrs. Don Byars of Canyon.

He is regional chairman for the elementary division of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and is a member of the executive committee of These members of the top one-act play cast in District 1-AA will be presented in an open dress rehearsal Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. They are, from left to right, Bill Cornette, Carole Jones, Judy Wheeler, and Ted Abbott. They are directed by Mrs. Margaret Foster. The foursome will present a cutting from Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie" Saturday in Lubbock in regional Interscholastic League competition. The public is invited to the Friday rehearsal, for which there will be no charge.

Regional Contests Slated at Lubbock

If any of the Canyon High School students entered in the regional Interscholastic League competition at Lubbock this weekend are superstitious, they had better stay home.

The reason is simple: Canyon High School has 13 entries in the big literary and track meets at Texas Tech, scheduled for Friday and Saturday in the South Plains city.

The 13 students are entered in nine events, after Canyon walked off with the District 1-AA literary contest and finished third in the district track and field competition.

Rack Up 166 Points

Canyon swamped the other members of the district in the literary meet, amassing 166 points. The closest contender was Friona, which managed only 93 points.

It was a different story in the track and field meet, held at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo.

The Eagles finished in third place behind Dalhart and Tulia. Dalhart garnered 164 points, Tulia, 160 points, and Canyon, 71 points.

Events and Entries

The events and the entries in which Canyon students will participate include Ted Abbott in senior boys declamation, Virginia Crounse and Sarah Ragle in girls debate, and Bill Cornette and Bill Callarman in boys debate.

Billie Miller and Sandra Barger will represent Canyon in shorthand, while Robert Blythe is entered in ready writing. Kerry Knorpp is the boys extemporaneous speech entry and Clark de Schweinitz will represent Canyon in the boys tennis singles.

Canyon will have two track and field entries. Jerry Richardson, who placed second in the broad jump here last week in the district meet, will jump again at Lubbock.

Relay Team to Run

The 440-yard relay team—composed of Richardson, Lou Johnson, Leon Henderson, and Chuck Nester—is Canyon's only other track and field entry. The 440 team also took a second place in the district meet.

In the district literary competition, Abbott was first in boys declamation; Misses Crounse and Ragle, first in girls debate; Cornette and Callarman, first in boys debate; Misses Miller and Barger, first and second, respectively, in shorthand; Blythe, second in ready writing; Knorpp, first in boys extemporaneous speech, and de Schweinitz, first in boys tennis singles.

CD, Disaster Committee Named for Emergencies

A civil defense and disaster committee for Canyon and the southern portion of Randall County was organized Monday at a meeting in the Canyon fire station.

Although designed specifically for tornado emergencies, the committee would be able to swing into operation in the event of almost any other type emergency.

Making the appointments Monday night was Bill Sternberg, fire chief.

Named directors were John P. Taylor, mayor of Canyon, and the county judge, who at present is W. J. Fleisher.

Sternberg was appointed deputy director, and O. W. "Bud" Parker was named assistant director. Jack Jennings, fire marshal, will be secretary for the group.

The various units which will be needed in the event of an emergency and the heads of these units are:

Police department: Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston. Under Sheriff Johnston's direction will be the sheriff's department, Sheriff's Post, city police, highway patrol, and other area police, National Guard, and the Air Force emergency crews.

Fire protection: Assistant Fire Chief Bill Counsellor will have the Canyon Fire Department and area fire fighting units under his direction.

Dr. Nester in Charge

Health and sanitation: Dr. C. R. Nester will have charge of the doctors and nurses in Canyon and any other doctors which might come to Canyon to assist in treating the injured.

Communication: Crosby Hammonds, day dispatcher for the sheriff's department, will direct all radio communications, as well as the Explorer Scouts who will serve as runners.

Transportation: W. A. "Bill" Wilson, precinct 1 justice of the peace, will have charge of the rescue work for all county, city, and West Texas State College equipment, all local vehicles, ambulances, and any equipment which the Texas Highway Department puts at the disposal of the committee.

Civilian Relief, Utility Heads

Civilian relief: Rev. Donald Price, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will assist the Salvation Army and Red Cross in setting up operations here, as well as having charge of the ministerial alliance and local churches.

Utilities and public works: City Manager Herschell Stevens will have charge of Southwestern Public Service, Pioneer Natural Gas, and the city water and sewer departments getting utilities discontinued, as well as helping Southwestern Bell Telephone Company resume telephone service.

Aid Stations Told

In the event of a disaster in Canyon, Neblett Hospital, Medical and Dental Clinic, high school gymnasium, and the Administration Building at WT were designated as aid stations.

All residents of Canyon will be alerted of a tornado or any other disaster striking the city by eight blasts from the fire whistle.

Athletic Banquet To Feature Leahy

Special awards and an address by national sports figure Frank Leahy will highlight West Texas State's annual All-Sports Banquet at 7:30 Tuesday night in the college cafeteria.

Most valuable, fighting heart, and the president's awards will be announced for West Texas lettermen in football and basketball and lettermen in all other sports will be recognized.

Leahy, former coaching great at Notre Dame, is now general manager of the Los Angeles Chargers of the new American Football League. He retired from Notre Dame in 1953 and has been in private business until accepting the Los Angeles job.

A capacity crowd is expected but a few tickets will be available to the public on a first-come, first-served basis. They can be obtained at the athletic office in Buffalo Fieldhouse.

Rabbits Find New Home, Mother

Two baby jackrabbits have found them a new home and a new mother at the residence of Mrs. Bill Tucker, 400 Fifth Avenue.

The rabbits were found by Mrs. Tucker and she decided to raise them.

But she didn't count on the help she is receiving from Stinker, her nine-year-old female dog.

The dog, who has been known to chase and kill rabbits, has taken the little bunnies to raise—mothering them as she would her own pups.

Stinker, a friendly mongrel until a stranger begins playing with the bunnies, has only been locked away from the rabbits once. When this happened, neighborhood dogs caught two of the four little balls of fur.

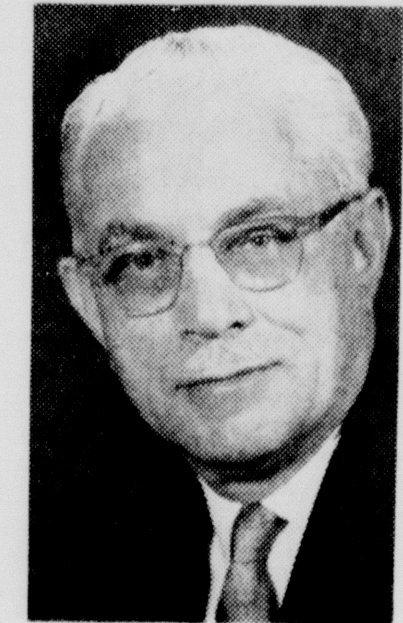

Named Fats and Hoppy, the rabbits are eating lettuce leaves now, as well as drinking milk from a doll bottle. When found, the bunnies had to be fed with an eyedropper.

Mrs. Tucker took the rabbits home with her April 8, when they had just been born and did not have hair. She said she didn't think they would live.

Now the only danger she sees for them is from dogs that happen to get past Stinker, who stands guard over the bunnies day and night.

Stinker, nine-year-old dog belonging to Mrs. Bill Tucker, 400 Fifth Avenue, stands guard over her strange "litter" of rabbits. The dog mothers the bunnies as if they were her own and protects them from other dogs. Above, Mrs. Tucker feeds the little rabbits with a doll bottle.

Canyon Druggist Seeks Election

Jack Haimes, who owns and operates Buffalo Drug in Canyon, has announced his candidacy for Randall County judge, subject to action of the Democratic primary on May 7, with the following statement:

"People would rather feel they are investing their money and not just spending it whether it be for good politics, good children, or good business. I feel qualified to accept that responsibility.

"I attended school at West Virginia University and Marshall College in West Virginia, studying pre-law and education. I taught junior high school for two years and then worked in the accounting division of General Motors for 10 years.

"During the war I was associated with Curtis Wright as expeditor and in personnel, and at Amarillo Air Field as supervisor of restaurants.

"For more than 20 years, I have been in business for myself as grocer, druggist, and in real estate. "Since 1944, when I first came to Amarillo, I have enjoyed my association with its youth activities, Kids, Inc., and YMCA.

"My operation of Buffalo Drug in Canyon is now organized so that I will be available full-time for the judge's office, if elected.

"Since the May 7 primary is only a few short weeks away, it will be impossible for me to contact all of the qualified voters in Randall County. Therefore, I take this means of soliciting your vote and support in the election."

Getting Our Noses Counted

The census taker called at our house the other day, and contrary to what almost everyone will tell you, it didn't hurt a bit.

The lady who rang our doorbell was extremely affable and took up not more than five minutes of our time, which is a small enough price to pay for the reams of information which the Bureau of the Census will provide most of us after the results have been tabulated.

At some homes the stay of the census enumerator took quite a bit longer, but from all reports it was practically painless too.

And most of those who had to answer the long list of personal questions seem fascinated with the enumerator as he or she made the little dots all over the big sheet of paper when the questions were answered.

More than a few of those already counted, however, have questioned the right of the federal government to ask such questions as whether or not they own a washing machine, a clothes dryer, a food freezer, how much money they made last year, whether or not they worked last week, etc.

The answer is simple: As long as the American people keep asking the federal government to wipe their noses for them every time it is needed, then the federal government has a right to know what section of the country needs aid the most.

After all, at least this government is keeping the information out of the hands of the boys who worry about whether or not we're paying all the taxes we should be paying.

That's much more than the first census takers—the ancient Romans—could promise their people. The census then was for the purpose of taxation.

And William the Conqueror compiled a little more information on who-owned-what when he decided to spread some payola—in the form of land—among his followers. When his officials finished adding up the English people and their possessions in 1086, they had two huge volumes called the Domesday Book.

However, the first census taken just to find out how many people lived within the boundaries of a governmental unit was conducted in Nuremberg, Germany, in 1449.

Three hundred years later Sweden compiled the first national census, based on parish records.

The United States sent out 17 marshals and a few hundred assistants in 1790 to count the population in order to provide a basis for taxing the states and to determine the number of representatives they would have in Congress.

The first great invasion of privacy occurred in 1850, when census takers began to write down the names of all the people in the country. They also classified the population according to age, sex, race, and place of birth.

Since then, as the population of the country asked its government to provide them with more and more, the government has wanted to know more and more about the population of the country.

The questions asked the population has grown in proportion to the handouts the population has asked of the government.

It would be a cinch bet that the three persons counted in Randall County by the census of 1880 would shoot some enumerator today when asked if he had running water and indoor plumbing.

The 187 people counted by census takers in 1890 and the 963 people whom census takers found in 1900 probably would be pretty quick to draw on a modern enumerator also.

But those hardy souls would never have asked the federal government—or any other government—for the things we ask for today.

So if you disapprove of the census, then you must not approve of the many federal government subsidies from which you are benefitting.

But, as Congressman Walter Rogers says, "Many people complain about the federal government getting into everything, except their own pet project. Here is part of a communication I received the other day: 'I am against Uncle Sam playing big brother. But, no Texan, rural or urban, can fail to approve federal appropriations for the eradication of the screwworm.'" tions who also once purchased our own products.

While we subscribe to the principle of reconstruction and rehabilitation, and are very proud that our nation is one which has believed in restoring conquered nations, we can see no moral obligation, much less economic sense, in continuing to render aid to countries which are now well enough recovered to be able to even outstrip the mighty United States in certain fields of endeavor. It is all right to give your luckless buddy a few tips on successful courtship, but when he begins to date your own best girl, then we think that is the time to quit giving him any assistance.

President Eisenhower is one of the most vigorous proponents of foreign aid. He is a well traveled, well read and well informed man and we have a high regard for his judgment which in most cases has proved to be mature. However, our chief executive's position on foreign aid is completely short sighted. Very probably he is thinking of foreign aid in forms of its value as anti-communist government activity. However, a man such as Eisenhower should have learned a long time ago that friendship cannot be purchased at any price.

The three to five billion dollars, which our president is urging us to spend aiding other countries, would be an unnecessary, ineffective and expensive depletion of this nation's resources.

There are many ways of cementing the bonds of international friendship other than by the dole method.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

Changes Have Been Many for City Of Fort Worth Since Days of 1931

By BOYCE HOUSE

Fort Worth, when I moved there in 1931, had a population of around 150,000. As a reporter on the Star-Telegram, I was often assigned to the police station and there was a period of a year or so when I attended the luncheon of some service clubs five noons a week—so that I knew all the detectives, half the patrolmen, and nearly all the members of the downtown Lions, Kiwanis, and Rotary clubs. Now the city has grown to such an extent that I can walk two blocks and not see a single face I know. Automobile traffic was not a third of what it is today. There were no parking meters. The traffic signals were connected with bells which rang when the signal changed.

This was during the depression and national prohibition. Millions chuckled at Will Rogers' remarks in the daily paper. There was no air-conditioning; no TV and even radio was not yet so stabilized but one man operated a station without a license until federal officers walked in, in the middle of a program, and jerked the wires loose.

Garner Considered

People were talking about a successor to "the great engineer in the White House" and a Texan and two former Texans were coming in for consideration—Speaker of the House John N. Garner of Uvalde, Gov. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma, who had lived in Parker County, and Melvin Traylor of Chicago, who began his banking career in Malone, in Hill County. Travelers visiting Fort Worth for the first time inquired the way to the Seibold Cafe, famed for its huge steaks; and gourmets said the specialty at the Virginia Ham Kitchen was better than the ham served in Virginia.

A certain hooded organization had faded, like a spectre, from the scene only a few years before, after having briefly exercised political power in Fort Worth and over the state. There was a rumor it was going to be revived so I was assigned by the city editor to report the meeting. The place of assembly was a hill-top overlooking the Fort Worth Dallas pike, a quarter of a mile east of the car-barns.

KKK Ardor Gone

This hill was said to have been the meeting place during the heyday of the organization. Several hundred men were there, none in robes and masks, and a few speeches were made but the old-time ardor was absent and the ghost returned to its tomb.

One weekend the Missouri Pacific railroad ran an excursion to San Antonio. I went. The round-trip fare was $3. (Years ago, the Missouri Pacific gave up passenger service between Fort Worth and San Antonio.) Ten thousand was a good crowd for a T.C.U. football game. The Stock Show was held in the North Side Coliseum. Bowden Air Lines advertised that the fastest passenger planes in the world were in operation between Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Amos Carter already had become an international celebrity. William P. McLean was the state's most renowned trial lawyer. The Rev. Frank Norris was one of the best known ministers in the nation.

Home of Capitalist

The city's most spectacular capitalist of that era was busy in various enterprises. Rated many times over a millionaire at that time, he was to die 20 years later as a guest in a hospital to which, in his days of affluence, he had given $50,000.

W. T. (Tom) Waggoner, last of the old-time West Texas cattle kings, was living in Fort Worth. He was said to be the richest man west of the Mississippi because of the countless cattle and the oil wells on his vast ranch. At this time, he was building Arlington Downs, which came to represent an investment of $2,000,000.

Verily, time has brought changes since 1931.

Snap-ed Shot: The trouble with political jokes is that sometimes they get elected.

Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News: Things got a little hectic around the J. H. Alexander household for a few days recently.

Their 12-year-old son, Gregg, decided to hold his first party, a dance for six boy and girl couples, and the Alexanders went all out. First, Alex, the Braniff flight information man, bought a stereophonic record player and invested heavily in the records attractive to 12-year-olds.

Then he spent a whole weekend waxing the living room floor and getting it into shape. Meanwhile, Mrs. Alexander was busy with the refreshments and entertainment.

Finally, everything done, Alexander said on the night before the party: "Son, how many people did you invite?"

Gregg looked at him. "I didn't invite anybody," he said. "I thought you and mother did."

"If you can't whip 'em, join 'em," said Louis. "If we start talking about how beautiful dandelions are, pretty soon everybody will be trying to get a good stand. After all, they are just as pretty as daisies . . . and not half so hard to grow."

YOUR HEALTH

Persons Under Five and Over 15 Lagging in Protection From Polio

The under five and over 15 age groups are polio vaccination "soft spots" in Texas.

A recent State Health Department check of polio immunization levels in several typical Texas communities shows school age children are well protected but that vaccinations are lagging among youngsters under five and persons over 15.

"Immunizations must continue without letup if the disease is ever to be really conquered," State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy says.

Tech Homemakers Schedule Luncheon

The annual luncheon meeting of the Texas Tech Home Economics Ex-Students will be held Saturday at 12 noon in the Student Union Building on the Tech campus.

A report by the scholarship committee will be given. The price of the meal will be $1.40 and annual dues are $1. Both are payable at the door.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. Wesley B. Blankenship, 3404 Manioca Road, or PO5-8137. Reservations should be made today.

Officers serving this year are Mrs. W. B. Blankenship, president; Mrs. Russell Bean, vice-president; Mrs. Richard Sugarek, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Bill Crume, reporter.

Work guaranteed if called two days in advance.

"The record shows that persons who have not taken the series of three protective shots are 90 percent more vulnerable to paralytic polio than their neighbors who have completed the series."

Season Now Underway

Dr. Peavy's note of caution comes just in advance of the Texas polio season. According to the pattern of past years, the season gets underway about the middle of April.

Medical authorities agree that the most beneficial time to begin the shots is in advance of the annual rise in polio case rates.

Persons who have not yet begun the shots should start them immediately, the health commissioner emphasized. Persons now due for their third shot should take it without fail.

Booster Shot Needed

A booster shot a year or so after the third shot has been recommended by leading specialists. It should be administered at the discretion of the family's physician.

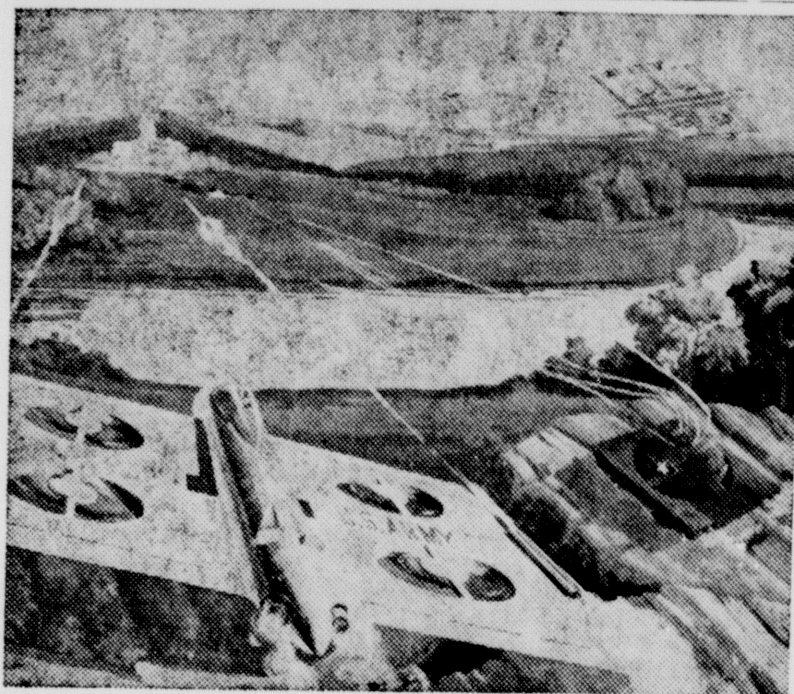

"Community campaigns should be aimed at known 'soft spots'—the age groups under five and over 15," Dr. Peavy stresses.

Statistics are available to show that almost twice as many cases of polio occurred in the United States during 1959 as during 1958. Health and medical officials have made it clear that the increase did not indicate a failure of the vaccine, but rather indicated a failure on the part of people to get their shots.

Of the 526 cases diagnosed in Texas last year, nine out of 10 had not had the basic three shots recommended for maximum protection. More than half of last year's victims were under five. Three-fourths of them had not had a single dose of vaccine.

"The higher the level of polio protection through vaccination in a given community, the better chance that community has of escaping a polio outbreak," Dr. Peavy asserts.

Bloody beach assaults will eventually be a thing of the past, as displayed in the new U. S. Army exhibit now at West Texas State College. This panel depicts warfare in the 1970's, when commanders will have to think in terms of miles and "kilotons" rather than yards and rounds-per-minute. Troops will be projected into battle zones using three-dimensional devices to surprise the enemy with force and suddenness never before known.

Modern Defense Methods Shown In Exhibit by Army at College

"This Is The Army"—an official U. S. Army exhibit showing how the Army is helping to solve the complex problem of providing an effective Atomic-Age National Defense—is on display at West Texas State College.

The exhibit, prepared by the Army's Chief of Information, Washington, D. C., is on a nationwide tour of colleges and universities and is sponsored locally by the Army ROTC contingent at West Texas State.

Its purpose is to authentically inform students and the public on the speed and immensity of modern war and to emphasize the caliber and character of personnel required to man the modern Army establishment.

Spotlighted within the exhibit is the Army's new tank killer, the SS-10—a highly versatile, low-altitude, rocket-propelled, anti-tank missile—now being evaluated by Army Ordnance experts for eventual deployment with combat forces. The Army's new rifle—M-14—and new machine gun—M-60—are also introduced in the exhibit.

Featured, too, is the soldier's new "best of burden"—the Mechanical Mule—newest member of the Army's tactical vehicle family. The "Mule" provides a new concept in up-front combat support and is primarily designed to serve as a cargo carrier.

Other aspects of the informative exhibit show the status of today's active Army establishment, the Reserve and National Guard forces available for rapid re-enforcement of the Regular Army, and the supporting strength of allied forces.

Futuristic weapons predictions of the 1970's are shown in one area of the exhibit and a color motion

WT Will Be Site Of Cancer Meet

West Texas State College will be the site of a day long Teachers' Conference on Cancer Education Saturday.

Meeting under the auspices of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, the Texas Medical Association, and the State Department of Health, the event is the fourth such conference of 16 planned to aid teachers in carrying out an education program on cancer in senior high schools and colleges.

Superintendents, high school administrators, science teachers, and health educators from 34 counties have been invited to attend.

Presiding at the meeting, which will get under way with registration at 9 a.m. on the first floor of the Fine Arts Building, will be M. B. Morris, director of Curriculum of the Abilene Public Schools and member of the Schools and Colleges Committee of the ACS.

Participating in the meeting will be Curt W. Reimann of Austin, ACS executive director; Miss Gertrude Linn of Austin, ACS director of education; and Dr. Warren B. Poole of Lubbock, ACS Texas Division board member.

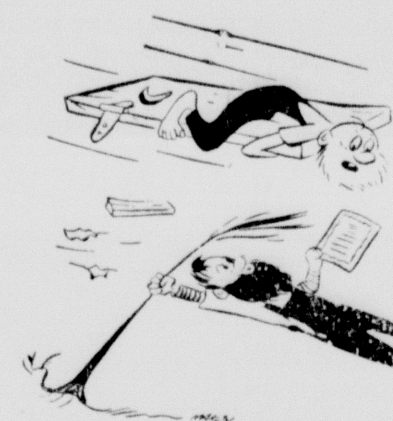

Dr. Norris Hiatt of Austin, associate dean of the Extension Division of the University of Texas, will close the meeting.

U. S. Army information specialists are attending the exhibit to answer questions posed by the viewing public. There is no charge for admission.

A pair of Corvairs recently recorded 27.03 and 26.21 miles per gallon in the 2,061.4-mile Mobilgas Economy Run. That's certified proof that Corvair skimps on gas costs. It saves other ways, too. Corvair is the only U. S. compact car that never needs antifreeze or costly radiator repairs. Come in and drive the compact car that outdoes them all.

Things Corvair gives you that America's other compact cars can't:

Practically flat floor . . . real foot room for the man in the middle. Fold-down rear seat gives 17.6 cu. ft. of extra storage space. Four-wheel independent suspension for a smoother, flatter ride. Rear-engine traction . . . that comes with the engine's weight bearing down on the rear wheels.

You probably realize already that the mileage figures Corvairs recorded in the Mobilgas Run are higher than the average driver can expect. But because the cars met every kind of driving condition—rugged mountain grades, long country straightaways, congested city traffic—those mileage figures prove Corvair's inherent ability to save. Operating costs take a nose dive the day you take delivery of a Corvair.

Home and Family Life Aided by Course

The foundation of all America's homes in the future is based upon the success of young homemaking education students today.

When we consider the many activities we can see how this statement is true. For instance, homemaking students this year have learned to make hats and cover shoes.

Other units taken up were design etching on trays, coasters and the like, menu planning, corsages, hats and shoes, clothing, home and family life, personality, child care and foods in all different stages, such as planning, preparing, cleaning, preservation and freezing.

Homemaking education of today is that part of the total school program which prepares youth for this particular occupation. The homemaking occupation is unlike any other because it is not confined to one area but is found in cities, small towns and rural areas. Efficiency in this field affects workers of all types because of the quality of their home and family life.

Goals Center on the Home

The work of this department is centered around home and family life. The activities and relationships of the family members enter especially here. This enables a homemaking student to be able to take on all responsibilities. The goals these members work for are:

1. To become better citizens through understanding and assuming responsibilities and privileges as members of the family and the community.

2. To make more efficient use of available resources through wise planning of expenditures; through learning how to save money by home production and preservation of food, construction and repair of clothing, and care and repair of tools and equipment.

3. To guide children wisely through understanding their physical and emotional needs.

4. To acquire social skills in managing a home and in performing necessary housekeeping duties.

5. To establish a wholesome attitude toward other people through satisfying experiences with them and their families.

6. To adjust to changes in their personal lives and in their social and economic order.

7. To improve their health through an understanding of what constitutes good health and the practice of habits which contribute to it.

8. To appreciate beauty which already exists in their environment and to make their homes, clothes, and food more attractive.

9. To enjoy social activities through gaining assurance by participation in family and community recreation, hobbies and other activities.

10. To experience a sense of accomplishment through knowing how to do work well and through acquiring skills and interests that enable them to express creative ability.

In order to accomplish these objectives in the homemaking classes in Canyon High and Junior High the units, as named previously, are offered to 66 eighth graders, 50 freshmen, 42 sophomores and 27 juniors and seniors. These programs are directed by Mrs. Clara B. Long and Mrs. Gaylene Stover.

Homemaking Includes FHA

The FHA, Future Homemakers of America, is an integral part of this homemaking education program providing opportunities for members to have additional experiences in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking. In Canyon schools all those in homemaking may participate in the Future Homemakers of America.

FHA was organized before 1944 in different types of clubs, but in 1944 it was officially recognized as a national organization with national objectives, standards, emblem, colors, flower, creed and motto.

The national association is composed of a state association which in turn is made up of local chapters. The national and state organizations are financed by a 50 cent fee paid by each member.

To emphasize specific goals the FHA'ers have eight purposes:

1. To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking.

2. To emphasize the importance of worthy home membership.

3. To encourage democracy in home and community life.

4. To work for good home and family life for all.

5. To promote international good will.

6. To foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life.

7. To provide wholesome individual and group recreation.

8. To further interest in home economics.

In CHS there are 116 members, and in Junior High there are 59 members in FHA. During this year 49 Junior Degrees and 42 Chapter Degrees were earned by members.

In the last eight years 35 State Degrees have been earned, six this year. When a student earns her State Degree, she has received the highest available honor in FHA. The girls earning their State Degrees this year were Linda Burgess, Nancy Clegavinger, Dorothy Higdon, Peggy Sue Hales, Jo Ann Thompson and Kay Boydston.

Other activities, social and recreational, sponsored by FHA and participated in by these homemakers are the annual FHA-FFA party, FHA Banquet, Daddy Date Night, teas and receptions, camps and field trips.

The local FHA meets the first Tuesday in every month and follows a program of work that promotes the national and state goals.

Crager Conducts Clinic

Dr. Ted J. Crager, head of the music department of West Texas State College, conducted a clinic for the Canyon High School band April 11.

Weaknesses of the band, Dr. Crager pointed out, were dynamics and carelessness. However, he stated that the band had many fine players and was capable of making a high rating in the approaching contest. Band members were excused from their Monday morning classes in order to attend this clinic.

The contest was held Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The band played at 8 o'clock Thursday morning and received a second division in concert and a first division rating in sight reading.

Canyon VIP

Mike has curly blond hair and hazel eyes. His big ambition is to be an engineer, and while he is waiting he has a job as a sheet-rock finisher.

People who throw rocks at other people's cars and do not respect other people's belongings are Mike's pet peeves.

Mike's favorites are for a car, Ford; food, tortillas; color, red; and subject, geometry.

As for girls, Mike says he goes for a pretty, quiet girl who isn't bashful and is about half as tall as he is.

Mobles No. 2 and Civil Air Patrol No. 3 and music occupy Philip's leisure time.

His favorites are for a car, Chevrolet; colors, red; and food, green apples. His favorite person is Cash McCall. Girls that attract Philip are the popular "Miss America" type.

Honors Philip has received have been band council, student council, junior class president, sophomore class vice president, National Honor Society, Student-Faculty Congress president, and band king.

Students Take Tuberculin Test

The Canyon Public Schools assisted by the Potter-Randall Counties Tuberculosis Association and Public Health Department gave students a tuberculin test on April 19 at Canyon High School.

The test is being used to indicate if students have come in contact with the germ. A positive reaction generally indicates that the person has been exposed to the tuberculosis germ and further studies should be made by the family physician.

Before taking this test students filled out a card which their parents signed if they wished to give permission to their child to take it.

Easter - - -

- - - A Time of Rejoicing

In the hustle and bustle of preparation for the Easter holiday, do we too often forget the true and sincere meaning of Easter? To you is this season just a time for picnics and gatherings of friends?

The greatest festival of the Christian church commemorates the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. The church council of Nicaea in 325 A.D. decided that Easter should be celebrated on the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox, March 21. Easter can come as early as March 22 or as late as April 24.

The Easter service is often the most elaborate of the church year. The message, "The Lord Is Risen," is expressed in ceremonies, prayer and music. Besides the elaborate church services, sunrise services are held outdoors in many places. Sunrise services at Pike's Peak in Colorado, in the Grand Canyon of Arizona and in the Hollywood Bowl have won national acclaim because of the beauty of their surroundings. Many and varied are the Easter customs that have been brought from the Old World. The white lily, the symbol of the Resurrection, is the special Easter flower. Colored eggs and rabbits have come from pagan antiquity as symbols of new life.

New clothes for Easter appear, on the surface, to be no more than a symbol of worldliness, but the custom may have derived from an ancient belief that it was unlucky not to wear something new on this day, or perhaps from the long established tradition that the Easter season was the time to cast off the old habits and start anew.

The name "Easter" comes from the ancient Anglo-Saxon goddess of spring, "Eastre" or "Ostara," who is honored in an annual spring festival. Some of our Easter customs have come from this and other Christian spring festivals.

During this season of gladness and rejoicing each one of us should have a feeling of great gratitude in his heart for the love of Christ who died on the cross for the redemption of our sins.

SFC Delegates Attend Meeting

Canyon High School's delegates to the student council convention in Amarillo March 31-April 2 were Mike Moore, Kerry Knorpp, Phillip Waters and Chuck Nester.

Mr. Dan Williams, president of TASC, addressed the first general session. After this, the delegates attended a carnival and dance at Palo Duro High School.

On Friday the boys attended the second general session where they heard an address by Dr. Dan Procter, vice president of Star Engraving Company.

Mr. Ray Wells, sponsor, Kerry and Phillip were leaders for student discussion groups. That evening a formal dance was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Herring Hotel.

Speaker for the last session was Dr. Robert G. Lee, Baptist minister from Memphis, Tenn.

FTA Members Observe Teaching Techniques

Future Teachers of America members were excused for a half day of observation today.

The members filled out a sheet listing their preferences in observing, such as time, grade, teacher, afternoon or morning, and subject, for those who wished to observe in grades seven and eight. They also listed specific things they wished to look for in their observation.

Beverly Richard, Marla Free, Mary Bess Brillhart, Jimmy Killingsworth, Lawrence Lewis, Anne Guthrie, Ronald Osborn, Lynda Redman, Ralph Kuehn, Judy Bournland and Frances Kiker helped at the Interscholastic League meet last Saturday by serving as door monitors for the speech contests, errand boys, and by giving information to those in need of direction to contests.

Seniors to Hold 'Kid Day,' Party

Along with making final decisions about the senior gift in their class meeting April 11 the seniors chose May 11 for "Kid Day" and May 25 for the party given by Stephanie Conboy.

At 6:30 p.m. on April 26 the seniors will conduct a chili supper with the senior-faculty basketball game beginning at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Cecil Simms, sponsor, said tickets will be sold for 75 cents. This includes the dinner and the game.

Child Care Books Due at Libraries

The Randall County Library and the West Texas State College library are among 1,000 Texas libraries and social agencies that will receive books containing the latest information on the nation's children.

The eight-volume set comprises the official publications of the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth. In all 8,000 books are being given to Texas libraries by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meadows of Dallas through a Meadows Foundation grant of $12,000.

The books, representing the combined findings and thinking of the nation's outstanding leaders in the field of child care, will be a source of authoritative information on the nation's children for years to come.

An estimated half million citizens interested in the welfare of children have joined the nation's foremost educators and child care authorities in the gathering of information which will be condensed and incorporated in the books.

Governor Price Daniel acknowledged Mr. and Mrs. Meadows' gift to Texas libraries. He said, "In a democracy such as ours the people must have sufficient facts upon which to base wise decisions concerning the future of our children and youth. By contributing this vital set of books to a thousand libraries in our state Mr. and Mrs. Meadows, through the Meadows Foundation, are rendering a great public service in this regard."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—First it was $100,000 homes for college presidents. Now it's $36 door-knobs for the State Office Building that have cost-conscious legislators blowing their tops.

Legislature went through an arduous seven-months tax raising session last year to scrape up enough money to keep state services going. Despite all the problems and criticisms they weathered, it wasn't enough. Now they are face to face with the prospect of another deficit next year and the need to raise more taxes.

It is in this not-so-rosy setting that the House Committee on Saving Taxes is checking into how state money has, and is, being spent. When they heard that the terrazzo floors in the brand new State Office Building had cracked, committee members decided to investigate further into the $3,793,000 building.

They learned that the air conditioning system vibrated excessively; that the building had 1,000 elaborate door knobs, costing $36 apiece; and that there were telephone booths in the hallways lined with expensive marble. Some offices had no doors.

They noted that the Texas Employment Commission Building, just across the street and to the casual observer equally as handsome, cost only $14.33 per square foot compared to $17.40 for the State Office Building.

Cracked floors now are being removed and replaced by the contractor, at no cost to the state. Efforts are under way to smooth out the knocks in the air conditioning. Legislators are unhappy at the lack of supervision and inspection while the building was under construction.

H. R. Nieman, who became director of the State Building Commission after the building already was built, told the committee he agreed the structure was probably wasteful in some features. He attributed this to inadequate supervision. Steps are being taken to watch this more closely on future projects, he said.

Raw Materials

Gov. Price Daniel has promised to have two sets of ingredients ready when the State Finance Advisory Council meets May 16 to begin shaping up a long-range fiscal policy for the state.

Daniel will present to the committee:

(1) A 10-year projection of budgets of agencies which represent the state's main money needs — schools, highways, hospitals and welfare.

(2) Five suggested new tax plans. He does not intend to make the five tax plans public before the committee meeting, said the governor, because he doesn't want them to get involved in the current political campaigns.

It is certain that the governor's proposed tax plans will not include a general sales tax or income tax, both of which he has long opposed. However, he said he will ask the committee to look down the road and "report honestly whatever you find and let's see how long we can go without sales or income taxes."

Houston U. Asks Aid

Now under consideration is whether the University of Houston should become a fully state-supported college.

Commission on Higher Education will hear a report on its staff findings probably in October and make a recommendation to the legislature, pro or con, next year.

In making their bid before the commission, Houstonites said the state would get a $22,000,000 institution with a 275-acre campus, all free of debt. In return, it would need to spend about $4,000,000 a year for operating it.

Increased costs have forced the school to raise its tuition fee to $600 a year and more, with a resulting drop in enrollment. Tuition at state colleges is only $100 a year.

Council of State College Presidents opposes the move on grounds that the state cannot afford to spread its support any thinner without a damaging drop in quality.

Houstonites point out that their county has 10 percent of the state population, pays 20 percent of state

Sports Funds Due Inquiry

Commission on Higher Education has ordered an investigation of rumors that state money is being used by some colleges for intercollegiate athletics.

A previous report to the commission had indicated that this was usual among all schools except those in the Southwest Conference which get enough from gate receipts to support athletics.

Requests by six schools to expand their course offerings are under study. Each proposal will be considered at least six months before approval or disapproval.

Labor's Cases Upheld

State Supreme Court ruled that labor unions have a right to present grievances to a school board if they do not claim the right to strike.

It overruled the position of the Dallas school board that dealing with the union would be the same as recognizing it as a bargaining agent for public employees and therefore contrary to law.

In another case the high court struck down the sentences imposed by a Dallas judge on three labor officials for picketing in violation of his court order. Because they were picketing a business that is in interstate commerce, their action was held to be a case for federal, not state, courts.

State Deficit Drops

Annual payments of taxes on corporation franchises and insurance premiums are whittling down the shortage in the state general revenue fund.

After hitting an all-time high of $88,000,000 in March, the deficit dropped to $76,496,922. It is expected to drop further through the spring but not enough to get out of the red this year.

Reasons are several: A drop in oil revenue due to the industry's troubles, lawsuits which tie up expected revenue from the new severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, loopholes in the new sales taxes on furs, jewelry, air conditioners, etc., that have caused revenue to fall below expectations.

Large Wheat Crop

Texas' winter wheat crop is expected to hit 78,714,000 bushels, third largest crop among the states.

U. S. Department of Agriculture describes conditions in Northwest Texas as very favorable, with plenty of moisture and light damage from winter weather.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lane spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Martin, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lane in Clarendon.

Jane Dunbar of Memphis spent the Easter holidays with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Hopper.

This is the business end of a Gas Light . . .

the part that lends an air of distinction to the front of your home • the part which casts a soft, mellow glow that bids a gracious "welcome" to guests, never bothers neighbors, and is strangely unattractive to bugs • the part that comes in six authentically-styled duplications of original designs • the part that you needn't turn on and off because the cost per day is hardly worth mentioning • the part that rests at the top of the pole which we haven't bothered to describe because after all . . . a pole is just a pole!
